[BEGINNING OF CALL]

TARGET TELEPHONE: CMT
CALL NUMBER: CMT
IN: Ray.
HRS: Hey, Josh.
JN: What's up man?
HRS: What's, what's going on?
JN: Not much.
HRS: Just got all, got all my freaking meetings down here, and I just got online and I'm looking at some stuff and uh, it's looking like the RYO language is getting taking out for free or you know, or is uh, Chris working on this? Is Chris behind this?
JN: Yeah, yeah, we've, I mean we've been sending the message that the bill is dead, so.
HRS: Okay, well I just wanted to make sure, you know.
(Talking over each other)
JN: ...use for something else, they're trying to use it as a vehicle for something else you know?
HRS: Yeah, cause they're calling. You know, my guys are calling me saying, hey, you know they're following this too and they're going, hey you know, they, they wanna, you know where credit's due they wanna give credit. But if it's, if it's not due, they don't want to do. They're ending up with a freebie. So they wanted me to find out what was going on.
JN: No, no, what you know, what's happening is all this stuff's happening behind the scenes. They're telling people that the bill is dead
HRS: Right.
JN: and so you know, the reason these amendments are going on there, you know how it works.
HRS: Right.
JN: They're looking for vehicles for other shit at the last you know day of session.
HRS: Right.
JN: So once, once the message is sent that the bill is dead, that's when you start seeing all these other amendments that they might use it as a vehicle for something else.

HRS: Okay. Alright, so Chris is behind the deal, which is good.

JN: Yeah, yeah.

HRS: Alright brother. I appreciate that. Let me relay that information.

JN: Ok.

HRS: Alright.

JN: Alright man.

HRS: Talk to you.

JN: Bye.
